

Expanded In-Home Services for the Elderly (EISEP) when there is no place like home!

EISEP is a non-medical program for a personal and home care that can assist those who are:

60 years of age or older having difficulty maintaining themselves at home not receiving Medicaid.

Case management is provided to all EISEP participants to help them and their families determine what assistance is needed and to arrange services.

In-home services assist a person with daily activities. These may include assistance with tasks such as bathing, toileting, dressing, light housekeeping, laundry, shopping, and food preparation.

Non-institutional respite offers relief to families and others who are assisting an elder person by providing such in-home services or arranging for the EISEP participant to attend a social adult day program.

Ancillary services include items that help seniors remain safely in their home. Examples include purchasing needed equipment or supplies, or arranging home repairs or modifications. These services are provided on a one-time basis. Equipment may include a personal emergency Response system (PERS).

Participation cost is determined by income and housing expenses and is on a sliding fee scale.
